

Why is forming a group so hard?

- How did you exchange contact information?
- How will you communicate with your team?
- How will you create tasks or assignments to specific members of your team?

Groog

Making the World a Better Place

Groog's Solution

A clean and intuitive site for group organization to relay vital information between members.

- Simple and effective communication
- View information about your fellow group members
- Task creation and assignment